ABSTRACT

Intended as a source guide to assist Georgia migrant personnel in obtaining educational, employment, health, human, legal, and social services for migrant children, the manual lists 250 national and state agencies, organizations, societies, and foundations; describes their purposes, services, eligibility requirements, fees, geographical areas of service; and gives addresses and/or telephone numbers to contact for further information. The list includes some services for adults, since migrant children are often helped through assistance to their families. A subject guide cross-references the alphabetical agency listing. Appendices provide regional and local office addresses, contact persons, and telephone numbers for 25 of the service agencies described. (NEC)

INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION

This manual is intended as a guide to assist Migrant personnel in obtaining services for migrant children. Since migrant children are often helped through assistance to their families, some of the services listed in this manual are for adults. Most of the services are provided free of charge or have a sliding fee based on income.

It is often quite difficult to determine the correct service needed; therefore, it is very important not to recommend a singular service provider, but also to recommend related service providers as needed. An ALPHABETICAL LISTING OF AGENCIES, FOUNDATIONS, ORGANIZATIONS OR SOCIETIES as well as a KEY TO SERVICES have been provided to assist in your search for services.

This manual is by no means a complete listing of services available to our children. It is, however, an attempt to make you aware of some sources available. A thorough review of this material may lead to other sources available in your area,and it is hoped that you will include them as additions to this manual.

II

HOW TO USE THIS MANUAL

HOW TO USE THIS MANUAL

KEY TO SERVICES:

This section was developed to provide you with cross-referenced information on a particular subject area. Once the service needed has been decided on, you should review the key in that subject area. The key to services is alphabetically listed.

Examples:

ABANDONMENT

See: CHILD CARE INSTITUTIONS; GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES, DIVISION OF FAMILY AND CHILDREN SERVICES, DIVISION OF YOUTH SERVICES, OFFICE OF SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Parents Anonymous 231

ABORTION

See: FAMILY PLANNING

ABUSE

See: CHILD ABUSE

ADOPTION SERVICES

See Also: GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES, DIVISION OF FAMILY AND CHILDREN SERVICES

Birthright, Inc. 24

Friends of Children, Inc., Adoption Division. . . 50

Georgia Association for Guidance, Aid, Placement and Empathy, Inc. 54

If you do not find the subject listed, it is possible that it might be listed under another subject heading.

Example: Dyslexia is not specifically listed as a subject heading in the Key to Services. Dyslexia is a Learning Disability, and a provider is listed under Learning Disabilities as well as under the heading Assistance Centers, Information Clearinghouse.

Although this material is cross-referenced to related subject areas, it is not cross-referenced for all situations where services may be needed.

Example: A child has epilepsy and needs services but he also has a hearing problem that is getting worse.

In this situation a review of the following subject areas would be in order: Assistance Centers, Information Clearinghouse; Child Health Services; Deafness and Hard of Hearing, Information and Services; Epilepsy.

ALPHABETICAL LISTING OF AGENCIES, FOUNDATIONS, ORGANIZATIONS OR SOCIETIES:

This section lists the page number of a specific provider. To use this section effectively you must know the exact name of the provider. However, a review of all providers listed will often result in the locating of the provider you specifically want.

Although this might seem to be the easiest way to locate services, please remember that it is not subject cross-referenced and related services available might be overlooked.
